REASONS FOR ALLOWANCE

2. The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance.

This invention relates generally, to an image verification apparatus and image verification method which verify whether an image file has been altered.

Based on applicant's amendment, with respect to claim 1, representative of claims 8 and 21 the closest prior art of record (Friedman and Ruhl), Friedman reference is directed to an apparatus that uses a hash function in combination with a "public" or "priTate" key to determine whether image data has been altered, and Ruhl teaches a "display form change unit". However, neither Friedman nor Ruhl teaches or suggest, among other things, "a display form change unit which changes a display form of additional information included in the image file if said verification unit verifies that the digital image has been altered, wherein said display form change unit avoids displaying the additional information if said verification unit verifies that the digital image has been altered, and, wherein the additional information includes a thumbnail image of the digital image".

These key features in combination with the other features of the claimed invention are neither taught nor suggested by (Friedman and Ruhl) prior art of record.
